

Dear Chachi,

On this very special day, Monday, April 14th, 2025, I want to take a moment to truly celebrate you and remind you just how incredibly precious your presence is in my life. You are not just an aunt; you're a role model, a confidante, and a source of endless inspiration.

You are someone who proves, time and time again, that true beauty is not about makeup or fleeting trends. It radiates from your natural smile, the warmth you carry in your heart, and the genuine kindness you extend to everyone you meet. Your 'Whatever' attitude, that effortless ability to take things in stride and find joy in the little things, is something I truly admire. Combined with your modern, classy vibe, it makes you absolutely one of a kind.

I remember all the times you've been there for me, offering advice, sharing a laugh, or simply being a comforting presence. Like that rainy afternoon when we sat with mugs of your perfect coffee, talking about everything and nothing at the same time – those moments are treasures I hold dear.

May your life be as sweet and delightful as your favorite decadent chocolate treats, as comforting and soul-warming as your favorite perfectly brewed coffee, and as joyful and infectious as your bright, genuine laughter. May this 38th year of your life be filled with endless happiness, robust good health, and unforgettable memories that you'll cherish forever. May you continue to shine your light on the world and inspire everyone around you.

Happy 38th Birthday, dear Chachi! I hope this day is everything you wished for and more.

With all my love,

Zakee Shaikh 💖

HAPPY 38th
Happy Birthday!
CHACHI!

Wishing you the best day ever,
Here's this year's annual Celebration your 38th chapter is - going to be amazing!

Amogh's Studio